

National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Research Showcase 27-28 July, the University of Sydney

Abstract submissions are now open for the 2nd Annual National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Research Showcase.

The highlights of both conference days will be abstract presentations covering all areas of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health research. Wherever you are in your career, we encourage you to submit your research. Abstract submissions close COB Friday 30th April

Travel prizes will be awarded to assist some interstate presenters. In the event that COVID-19 restrictions mean the live component of the Showcase cannot proceed, presenters will be asked to pre-record their presentations .

Join us, share your research, and be inspired by the current Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health and medical research across Australia.

About Us

The 2021 National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Research Showcase is organised by the National Indigenous Research(er) Capacity Building Network (IRNet) and proudly hosted and supported by the University of Sydney and Sydney Health Partners.

IRNet is an initiative of the Australian Health Research Alliance (AHRA). For more information about AHRA, IRNet and the Showcase, visit ahra.org.au/our-work/national-indigenous-researcher-capacity-building-network-irnet/
